RCG Onyx Plus Trading Platform Integrates Advanced Charting from Barchart

CHICAGO – Sept. 24, 2012 – Barchart.com, Inc., a leading provider of market data and information, today announced that it is providing integrated charting capabilities to clients of Rosenthal Collins Group, a leading independent futures clearing and brokerage firm. Users of the RCG Onyx Plus™ electronic trading platform for futures now have access to Barchart’s fully interactive and real-time streaming charts.

The charts include access to real-time futures market data, as well as delayed charts for equity and index markets. Additionally, users can access tick-by-tick charts, as well as multiple-minute bars and end-of-day data, all of which include extensive historical data. The integrated charts are full-featured and include both standard and advanced functionality such as dozens of technical indicators, drawing tools, linking by time period and symbol, pre/post market data, comparisons, and custom equations.

Barchart President Eero Pikat said: “With the interactive charting integration, RCG Onyx Plus provides a powerful platform to RCG clients for both analyzing and trading the markets. The integration between Barchart and RCG provides their end-users with seamless access to a powerful charting application that offers advanced capabilities yet is easy-to-use.”

In 2008, RCG was the first brokerage firm to integrate Barchart’s latest technology into its electronic trading platform.

RCG Chairman and Chief Executive Officer Scott Gordon said: “We’re delighted to partner with Barchart once again to provide valuable, user-friendly new tools for our clients. RCG Onyx Plus is designed to provide our clients with features they can easily incorporate into their trading and risk management strategies, and we’ll continue to upgrade the offering as we identify new opportunities for improving our clients’ experience.”

RCG Onyx Plus is the firm’s next generation customizable electronic trading platform. First developed as RCG Onyx in 2004 and introduced in 2006, the platform has evolved to be even faster, more robust and customizable. Features include single-click trading, real-time profit and loss display, synthetic orders, customizable/multiple layouts, risk management tools and WebTrader, a browser-based trading screen available from any Internet-accessible computer or tablet. RCG Onyx Plus also includes RiskWatcher, a tool for monitoring multiple accounts risk.
